

Get Certified in Building Resilient Teams

Attain an industry recognized leadership credential with the Resilience-Building Leader Program (RBLP). Building and leading resilient teams that can work together in a challenging environment is a core competency for military leaders.

RBLP certification contributes to your personal and professional career development by:

Improved opportunities for selection and advancement

Increased capacity for teams to solve problems and overcome adversity

Increased recognition by peers and respect of colleagues

Increased professional trust from employers and the public

Get certified no matter where you are stationed globally. Our certification exams are conducted 100% online. Exam prep training can be conducted online, in-person, individually, or in groups.

Get certified in Building Resilient Teams. Overcome, Adapt, Grow.

RBLP is approved for Air Force Credentialing Opportunities On-Line (COOL). Check with COOL to determine eligibility.
